YOUR VISION FOR SEATTLE CENTER

THE SEATTLE TIMES

Marissa Therriault's redesign follows a theme of "bringing people together for healthy activities," and includes soccer, lacrosse and baseball fields, an indoor basketball-court complex, a bike path "so people can come here with their bikes instead of driving," and a dog park on an expansive lawn with picnic tables. A new food court would feature "many different restaurants but not too much fast food … it's not healthy!"