

Diversity in South King County

During the 90s the number of minorities increased by more than 150 percent in south King County. At the beginning of the decade, non-Hispanic whites made up 85 percent of the population. Now, according to 2000 census figures, minorities account for 1 out of every 3 people.

1990 minority percentage

2000 minority percentage

